Our Boat Owners database stands as a beacon for marketers striving to reach a deeply engaged, lifestyle-driven audience. It's crafted with precision, offering detailed insights that include boat hull type, length, and propulsion type (inboard, outboard, or both). These specifics are more than just data points; they're reflections of the owner's lifestyle and, often, an indicator of wealth and disposable income, providing an unparalleled edge in targeted marketing strategies.

How Our Data Is Compiled

The depth and accuracy of our database stem from our relentless pursuit of the most reliable sources. We aggregate data from a wide spectrum of online and offline public and proprietary sources, including state and federal boat registrations, Coast Guard registries, lifestyle surveys, self-reported surveys, and detailed purchase histories. Our dedication to quality is further demonstrated by our monthly comprehensive verification process against the National Change of Address (NCOA) file, ensuring the utmost accuracy and reliability. Plus, with CASS certification, you are guaranteed an additional layer of precision in address accuracy.
