Description Summary

Our Travel Nurses Database is a targeted, high-value mailing list featuring licensed healthcare professionals who frequently relocate for temporary assignments. These individuals represent a highly engaged and adaptable audience with strong interests in mobility, housing, credentialing services, continuing education, and professional resources. Ideal for marketers looking to reach a niche yet nationwide segment of the healthcare industry, this database offers access to a responsive group of professionals who are consistently in need of products and services that support their flexible lifestyles and career paths.

How Our Data is Compiled

The information featured in this data This database is built using a mix of licensure records, self-reported professional surveys, credentialing platforms, and employment history. These individuals have verified nursing credentials and a documented history of taking on travel-based roles in clinical settings. Each record includes up-to-date contact details, licensure status, and location movement patterns to ensure accuracy and relevance. All data is CASS certified and processed through the National Change of Address (NCOA) system to maintain deliverability and currency across frequent relocations.

Consider the Facts

- ✓ Travel nurses earn 20-50% higher salaries compared to full-time hospital staff, depending on the region and specialty.
- ✓ Over 75% of travel nurse assignments last between 8 and 13 weeks, offering flexibility and variety.

Recommended Usage

Our Travel Nurses Database is especially valuable for healthcare staffing agencies, hospital administrators, and travel nurse placement platforms. It can also benefit relocation services, credentialing companies, and continuing education providers that support the needs of traveling healthcare professionals.
